Think back to the time in your life when you were feeling the healthiest. How does your current situation compare? If you feel significantly less vital, it could be a sign that your liver needs some support or that your diet and lifestyle need general repair.

Although many people associate a damaged liver with diseases such as hepatitis, there are a number of other factors that can place an unnecessary burden on your body's main detoxifying organ, all of which you should take steps to remedy immediately.

Detoxification is about supporting what your liver does naturally and protecting it from external stress. Here, find simple, safe, and effective ways to help your liver do its job better — and support your overall health in the process.

If you've been wondering how to get rid of toxins or cleanse your liver without damaging your health, we have made a few more spots available until Sunday to get you started and join the "Power up Liver" now!

Shocking Statistics about the Liver

- ✓ 80% of all cases of liver toxicity are caused by pharmacological drug reactions.
- ✓ 6,000-10,000 liver transplants are performed yearly in India.
- ✓ 29 million Indians have nonalcoholic fatty liver disease
- ✓ Almost 30,000 people die each year from liver cirrhosis.
- ✓ A poor diet contributes to most liver problems.
- ✓ 90-100% of heavy alcohol users develop fatty liver disease.
- ✓ More than 25 million people have gallstones.
- ✓ Gallstones are most common in overweight adults between 35-55 and affect more women than men.
- ✓ Each year, nearly a million new cases of gallstone disease surface. Gallbladder removal is the most common treatment.

What is a Liver Cleanse?

A liver cleanse is designed to detoxify, flush and purge the liver of deposits, toxins, and stones. Our liver cleanse programs also target the gallbladder to help it purge toxins.
